Stepping In. Standing Out. Leading On.

Having established ourselves in the industrial and commercial surfaces segment, we ventured boldly into decorative laminates in the early 1990s.

It wasn't always smooth sailing — but through fierce competition and early challenges, we found our footing with relentless product innovation and design excellence.

We were pioneers in introducing new textures, finishes, and large-format laminates that changed how spaces were envisioned.

Taking the First Step

We launched our first premium laminate collections, blending aesthetics with performance, and leveraging new opportunities in the interiors segment. This helped Stylam gain strong traction, but we knew leadership required more.

Our team tackled two key questions:

- Why should customers and designers prefer our surfaces?
- How could we make our offerings indispensable in their projects?

Our strategy was clear:

- Leverage cutting-edge manufacturing and design innovation to create surfaces that were not just beautiful, but solved real-world problems in application, durability, and maintenance.

Simultaneously, we built a strong network of dealers and architects across India and global markets.

The Game Changer

In 2012, Stylam transformed the industry again with the launch of our new laminate manufacturing plant, featuring fully automated, state-of-the-art technology.

This plant empowered us to produce a wider range of products — including super mattes, high gloss, anti-fingerprint laminates, and customized solutions for diverse needs.

We solved the industry's long-standing pain points:

longer delivery times,
limited customization, and inconsistent quality.

By investing in technology and design R&D, we ensured our partners had access to trend-setting, reliable products faster and at scale.

Within a few years, we expanded into over 80+ countries, supported by aggressive sales strategies and a relentless commitment to quality and innovation.
